Matt Dillahunty to Speak at KC Oasis

Host of "The Atheist Experience" to Address Local Secular Community

Kansas City, MO (December 9th, 2014)— KC Oasis, Kansas City's first freethought community, is delighted to announce that Matt Dillahunty, nationally known atheist celebrity, will be its keynote speaker for the group's Sunday, December 21st weekly gathering.

Dillahunty is a public speaker and internet personality. He hosts the Austin-based webcast and cable-access television show The Atheist Experience, and formerly hosted the live internet radio show Non-Prophets Radio. He is also the founder and contributor of the counter-apologetics encyclopedia Iron Chariots and its subsidiary sites. He is regularly engaged in formal debates and travels the U.S. speaking to secular organizations and university groups.

Matt's presentation, "How Other People Think" will take place at KC Oasis' meeting space on the 6th floor at Think Big Partners, 1800 Baltimore Ave, Kansas City, Missouri 64108. The event begins at 11:00 a.m. on Sunday, December 21.

"Since we launched in April, our community has continued to grow beyond our expectations," says Executive Director Helen Stringer. "We're thrilled that our success is allowing us to attract high-caliber speakers such as Matt Dillahunty to be a part of our weekly programs."

KC Oasis is Kansas City's first alternative to faith-based communities, offering a community of compassion and reason that comes together to share the human experience. It's a place where life is celebrated, family is valued, and all people matter. For more information, visit KCOasis.org, like us on Facebook, or follow us on Twitter.
